BACKGROUND

The advancement of science and technology, sport, languages, and art are dedicated not only to facilitate the human life, but also to educate human beings themselves with values to be high quality beings, good citizens, and more humble people to God. If we produce a gun, it may kill people; if we make insecticide, it may kill insects. However, in the hands of good people, the gun may be used to protect them from a maniac; bioinsecticide can be used to protect crops from harmful insects. The quality of human beings is the key to using or applying the advancement of science, technology, languages, sport, and art.

The fourth International Conference on Educational Research and Innovation (ICERI) aims at bringing together researchers, educators, scientists, engineers, and scholar students to exchange and share their experiences, new ideas, and research findings about all aspects of education, research and innovation, and discuss the practical challenges encountered and the solutions adopted to develop humanity and the quality of human life.
